Declassified and Approved For Release 2013/10/29: CIA-RDP80M01009A000100050019-4

Mahon Assails Excessive Talk About Secrets

Associated Press

Excessive talk about United. He did not cite any specific States intelligence secrets was instances, but said: denounced in a House speech "Every day some high-rank-yesterday by a Texas Repreling intelligence officer is quotsentative who said it is "mak-ed in the newspapers on some ing us the laughing stock of subject or another.
the world."

"These men are men who stupidity in announcing publity is an integral part of their licly facts which they would jobs.

gladly spend huge sums of "There is an intelligence gap House Military Appropriations Government." Subcommittee, said the Ken-Mahon, who has been han-nedy Administration "has mis-dling defense secrets for more interests."

"Officials in Moscow, Peking should neither be seen nor and Havana must applaud our heard. A passion for anonymmoney endeavoring to obtain," in the intelligence of those said Rep. George Mahon (D-who are daily revealing the games," he said. "Our national Tex.). Chairman of the operations of the United States pends on our knowledge of takenly allowed itself to be than two decades as a member goaded into revealing information of the Military Appropriations tion detrimental to our best Subcommittee, demanded an end to the loose talk that he said is doing "outrageous and intolerable" damage to U. S. intelligence efforts.

He said President Kennedy, Vice President Johnson, and House Speaker John W. Mc. Paul Rogers (D-Fla.) called for Cormack (D-Mass.) should get adoption of his resolution to together and halt what he establish a joint congressional termed "the rapid erosion of committee to coordinate the our national intelligence effectivities of the Central Intelfort.

He said the executive ilar groups. branch, the legislative branch, and Republicans and Democrats alike "must share the blame" for the present situation.

Declaring there has been "a great excess of talk" in recent weeks, Mahon told the House:

"Members of both the legislative and executive branches have publicly discussed matters which should only be discussed behind closed doors. Headlines are not so precious as to warrant jeopardizing our national security."

"Along with many other Americans, I am tired of these demonstrations of bad judg-

Mahon said "the deterioration of secrecy in regard to our intelligence-gathering techniques" began in 1960 when U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers was downed and captured in the Soviet Union. The United States at first denied that Powers was on a military reconnaisance mission, but later admitted it.

Mahon conceded that public curiosity is arounsed "by the aura of mystery and adventure which surrounds the intelligènce business."

Associated Press

REP. GEORGE MAHON · · · "too much talk"

our enemies' activities. . . .

"It is difficult enough to obtain information from closed Communist societies. American people, the press, and the officials of the executive and legislative branches of the Government must stop making a most difficult task more difficult."

ligence Agency and other sim-

Morse Says U.S. Secrecy Raises Peril

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 7 (AP)-Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) said tonight that Government secrecy has gone too far and "democracy is not safe" under such a policy.

Morse in a speech here said he could not reconcile the Central Intelligence Agency with democratic government

"Millions of Americans can die if that agency goes amok," he said.

The Senator said that secrecy surrounding CIA operations was responsible for mishandling of the Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba in 1961. He said the invasion would never have happened "if we had a congressional watchdog in the CIA."

Morse is Chairman of a Senate Foreign Relations Committee subcommittee that conducted a secret hearing on the Bay of Pigs invasion. He said he too is "bound to secrecy," but that if the details of the invasion could be aired, "the Nation would be better

The Oregon Senator lashed out at what he called "warmongers," who are demanding military action against Cuba.
Unilateral action in Cuba by the United States will lead to nuclear war, he said.

Declassified and Approved For Release 2013/10/29: CIA-RDP80M01009A000100050019-4